

Form for Proof of the Inability to take Examinations due to Illness (Medical Certificate) for Submission to the Examination Office of the Faculties

Information for Doctors

If, for health reasons, a student is not able to take part in an examination or has to leave an examination early, they must provide credible evidence of the illness in accordance with the applicable examination regulations of the examination office.

In accordance with §54 (11) ThürHG, proof shall be provided in the form of a medical certificate (attestation), which confirms that the candidate is unable to take the examination. The term "inability to take examinations due to illness" includes temporary health impairments which considerably reduce the candidate's personal capabilities and thus reduce the chances of obtaining an examination result corresponding to the candidate's true abilities and knowledge.

The following, for example, are not valid legal grounds for not being able to take examinations

- exam stress and anxiety
- mild (not feverish) colds
- permanent illnesses (with or without fluctuating symptoms, e.g. depression, ADHD, metabolic diseases, high or low blood pressure, disabilities; the latter must be claimed as compensation for disadvantages)

The medical certificate must include the date and/or the expected duration of the illness.

In the event of inability to take examinations after the start of examination, the medical certificate must also confirm that the inability to take examinations could not be established before or during the examination.

A certificate of incapacity for work or a certificate for presentation at school is not sufficient!
